

Nova Home Again Program

If you have been through a significant credit event, like a foreclosure, short sale or bankruptcy, you may be wondering what your options are for becoming a homeowner again. Conventional, FHA, USDA and VA loans all have waiting periods, typically 2-7 years. For full details, read our article How Long Do I Have to Wait to Buy Again? We can also work together with our Credit Services team to help you raise your credit score.

The advertisement features a night scene with a house and two green signs on a post. One sign says 'FORECLOSURE' and the other says 'SHORT SALE'. The text 'Recent foreclosure or shortsale?' is written in white. A 'Primary Residence' badge is in the top right. Below the signs, it says 'We can get borrowers HOME AGAIN!'. The 'NOVA HOME AGAIN' logo is on the left with the tagline 'Let's Go Home...'. The main text explains the program for borrowers with foreclosures, short-sales, deed in lieu, or bankruptcy. A 'Program Requirements' box lists criteria like 5/1 ARM loans, 600 FICO, and loan amounts. It also lists property types and local appraisers. A contact box for Daniel Jackson, Senior Loan Officer, includes his phone numbers, email, and website. The bottom of the ad contains a small disclaimer and the company logo.
